

This rendering show the placement of the magnificent Craighead-Saunders Organ — named after two legendary Eastman faculty organists — which will be installed in Christ Church (Episcopal) in 2008.

The new organ is being designed according to the specifications of an instrument built by Adam Gottlob Casparini in 1776 for the Church of the Dominicans in Vilnius, Lithuania.