Preparing for an Interview

	Berk, Diane. Preparing for Your Interview. Los Altos, California: Crisp Publications, Inc., 1990. This book is a walkthrough of the interview process from setting up the interview through the post-interview. Topics range from structure and types of interviews, technique in answering questions, presentation, and negotiating terms.
	Krannich, Caryl Rae. Interview for Success. Virginia Beach, Virginia: Impact Publications, 1980. Although this book has some helpful advice, it is not as helpful, nor as comprehensive as Robertson's How To Win in a Job Interview.
	Medley, H. Anthony. Sweaty Palms: The Neglected Art of Being Interviewed. Belmont, California: Lifetime Learning Publications, 1978. Sweaty Palms contains helpful chapters on preparing for interviews, questions and answers, honesty in the interview, and confidence and nervousness in the interview.
	Nadler, Burton Jay. Naked at the Interview. New York: John Wiley & Sons, Inc., 1994. Written with humor and style, Naked presents many helpful tips for job search preparation. Contains excellent chapters on résumé writing, interviewing and letter writing.
	Pollock, Robert W. Teacher Interviews. Martinsville, NJ: Advanta Press, 2001. Great book for new teachers preparing for their first interview!

Robertson, Jason. How to Win in a Job Interview. Englewood Cliffs, New Jersey: Prentice-Hall, Inc., 1978.

This is an excellent book on the art of the interview.
