

The ESM Chamber Music Department announces a new opportunity for graduate students:

Graduate Seminar in Chamber Music: CHB 483

This special class is open to any graduate instrumentalist (string, piano, wind, brass, percussion, or voice) wishing to pursue an in-depth, pre-professional chamber music experience. Students will perform a placement audition in the first week of class and then be formed into small groups and assigned repertoire by the faculty.

Class meetings will consist of faculty coachings, group masterclasses, and seminars on outreach and other pertinent topics.

Each of the formed groups will perform at least once in Kilbourn Hall at the end of the semester, as well as in informal outreach concerts in and around Rochester, both in schools and community sites.

Class will meet: Thursdays, 3:30-5:30PM (Students must be available at this time throughout the Fall and Spring semesters. This is a year-long course.)

Course number: CHB 483, 1 credit
