Biographical sketch

Malcolm Frager (1935-1991), American concert pianist, was born in St. Louis, Missouri, where he attended public school and received his earliest musical training. He earned his baccalaureate at Columbia University, where he studied languages in addition to music. His twin victories in the Leventritt Competition (1959) and the Queen Elisabeth of Belgium Competition (1960) launched his career on an international level. In 1963 he made a tour of the U.S.S.R., on which occasion he performed two-piano repertory with fellow pianist Vladimir Ashkenazy, who would remain a close friend of Mr. Frager until the latter's death.

Mr. Frager's vast repertory embraced the solo literature, chamber literature, and a large number of piano concertos. His chosen concerto in the final round of the Queen Elisabeth of Belgium Competition was Prokofiev's Piano Concerto no. 2, which he would later perform all over the world. Throughout his career he also performed widely Schumann's Piano Concerto in A minor. A dedicated researcher, he formulated his own performing edition of the Schumann Concerto after closely studying the composer's autograph manuscript and other primary sources. A fluent speaker of seven languages, he made a practice of addressing his audiences from the stage in whichever country he happened to be appearing.

Mr. Frager died in June, 1991, and was survived by his wife Morag and his children Melanie and Andrew. Morag Frager passed in 2012.

Provenance

The collection was the gift of Andrew Frager, son of the late Malcolm and Morag Frager, and was received by the Sibley Music Library in three installments between June and November, 2013. The gift was rendered after the death of Morag Frager, in whose possession the holdings had been since Malcolm Frager's death.

The Sibley Music Library had previously received the bulk of Mr. Frager's papers and other effects, which had been the gift of Morag Frager in 1992. Those holdings are described in a separately accessible finding aid under the rubric Malcolm Frager Collection (1992 Gift).

Scope and content note

When taken into consideration together with the holdings received in 1992, the collection provides a sweeping and fascinating documentation of the work and thought of an internationally renowned concert pianist. Mr. Frager's performing activities are closely documented in press clippings, reviews, itineraries, datebooks; his travels are further documented in his passports. His correspondence—rather more extensive here than in the 1992 gift collection—reveals the depth of his associations with musicians and other professionals, offering insightful conversations about points of interpretation and other musical issues. The business papers offer much in the way of documenting the commercial aspects of his career. Finally, the published music and manuscript facsimiles embody a significant portion of his performing repertory.

Restrictions and Use

No restrictions have been placed on the use of these materials. The provisions of the U. S. Copyright Law and its revisions do attend any requests for reproductions in whatever format.

Associations

The Ruth T. Watanabe Special Collections department holds the collections of certain other performing artists, including mezzo-soprano Jan De Gaetani, bass Tom Paul, and conductor Frederick Fennell. With respect to the piano, RTWSC holds many historic editions and also collections of repertory of the 18th, 19th, and 20th-centuries. Of special note, the E. Maude Wilson Collection is comprised of some 230 binder's collections of 19th-century literature; and the Czerny Collection is comprised of 52 publisher's proof copies and/or first editions of piano works by Carl Czerny.
