Biographical Sketch

Roger Rickson, born on November 20, 1937, was a native of Redlands, California. He received the Bachelor of Arts degree from San Diego State University, and the Master of Arts degree from the University of Redlands. He was a Clinician and Adjudicator throughout the West. Mr. Rickson directed numerous honor groups, including the first All Southern California Jazz All-Stars; State, County, and local Honor Jazz and Wind Ensembles; SCSBOA Junior High Honor Band; and twice directed the CMEA All-State Honor Jazz Ensemble. He also directed the Fresno Wind Orchestra and the California State University, Northridge Wind Symphony.

Mr. Rickson taught music at all levels from Elementary School through College. He was an adjunct faculty member at Crafton Hills College and California State University, San Bernardino. Mr. Rickson was a member of the Stan Kenton Clinics for ten years. He was a member of the Southern California School Band and Orchestra Association, the California Music Educators Association, the National Band Association, and the College Band Directors National Association. In 1993 his book Ffortissimo: A Bio-Discography of Frederick Fennell: The First Forty Years was published by Ludwig Music.

In 1996 he retired after twenty-three years in the Music Department of Riverside Community College. During his retirement he enjoyed sharing his abilities with numerous local school band and continued his researched of Wind Literature and developing “theme” concerts. Mr. Rickson died on July 13, 2003.

The department of Special Collections thanks Judith Horan for providing the biographical sketch of Mr. Rickson., and for providing the following personal statement, “Roger and Fred/Ffortissimo.”

Roger first met Dr. Fennell in the 1970s when Fred starting doing conducting workshops at Saddleback College in Orange County, California. Roger was already a serious collector of Fennell recordings, and thus a friendship began. They got together as often as possible, mainly by telephone and letter and eventually by computer. Roger began his research on the book in the late 1970s. He was given access to any information he wished; ironically, Roger actually owned more of Fred’s records than Fred did. Their friendship deepened over the years. Roger made two trips to Fred’s home in Siesta Key, Florida and one to Cleveland, to Camp Frederick. The book was a labor of love dedicated to Fred’s career and the culmination of Roger’s years of devotion to him. It was published by Ludwig Music which at the time was owned by Fred’s wife Elizabeth. The first public showing of the book was at the Midwest Band Conference in Chicago in December, 1993. That was followed by an all-day celebration in January, 1994 by Byron Hoyt Music in San Francisco. Roger and Fred were last together at the 50th anniversary of the Eastman Wind Ensemble in Rochester, New York.

Provenance

The materials comprising the Roger E. Rickson Collection were given to the Sibley Music Library by Mr. Rickson's widow, Judith Horan, in July 2004.

Scope and Content

The collection consists of materials pertaining to Mr. Rickson's book Ffortissimo, a bi-discography of Frederick Fennell. Ffortissimo, published in 1993 by Ludwig Music, represented the culmination of Mr. Rickson's lifelong attempt to completely document Fennell's career as a conductor, clinician, music editor, and author. Two major classifications comprise the collection: audio/video recordings and written research materials. The body of recordings includes virtually the complete Fennell commercial discography, including original- and re-releases on domestic labels and their foreign subsidiaries. Ensembles represented include the Eastman Wind Ensemble, Eastman-Rochester Symphony, Tokyo Kosei Wind Orchestra, and the Dallas Wind Symphony, among others. Also included in the collection are a series of non-commercial recordings of Fennell-led clinics, and private interviews between Rickson and Fennell. The written component of the collection consists primarily of Rickson's Ffortissimo research notes (including correspondence with Fennell), housed in a series of three-ring binders. Also prominent among the written materials are imprints (originals and photocopies) of articles by and/or about Fennell and scores and parts for compositions edited by Fennell. Finally, the collection contains several working and final drafts for Ffortissimo itself, including a "Ffortissimo Continued" discography of Fennell's output since 1993.

Restrictions on Use

No restrictions have been placed on the use of these materials.

Associations

The Roger Rickson Collection complements the information about Frederick Fennell and the Eastman Wind Ensemble found in the Eastman School Archives. Perhaps more significantly, the Rickson Collection also casts an invaluable perspective on the personality and achievements of Frederick Fennell as preserved in the Maestro's own collection of papers, received by the Sibley Music Library in May 2005.

DESCRIPTION OF SERIES

The Roger Rickson Collection has been organized into three series: recordings, publications, and research materials. These are further divided into sub-series, as described below.

Series 1: Fennell Recordings

The recordings are divided into sub-series according to format: LP records, reel-to-reel tapes, cassettes, compact discs, sound recordings in other formats, and videocassettes. For many of the recordings, especially the LPs and CDs, a dual numbering system exists: Rickson's detailed alphanumerical catalog, and the simplified numerical system represented in Ffortissimo. Every effort has been made to account for both systems in the finding aid by reproducing Rickson's numbers as well as keying individual entries to the Ffortissimo discography. Thus, for the following LP entry:

3a. La Fiesta Mexicana. Eastman Symphonic Wind Ensemble; Frederick Fennell, conductor. Mercury MG 50084. Recorded May 12, 1954. For further information, see Ffortissimo, p. 8.

"3a" represents the number assigned by Rickson to this particular release of La Fiesta Mexicana in his personal inventory; his full discussion of the album can be found as #3 in Ffortissimo.

Recordings listed as "Absent" in the inventory of a given audio format (e.g., 3c in the LP inventory) denote one of two circumstances: either Rickson identified the existence of the recording, yet was unable to add it to his collection; or the recording was made in a different format and is thus housed elsewhere in the collection. The best way to ascertain the presence/absence of a given recording in Rickson's personal collection may be to examine his collection-development logs, housed at the beginning of Series 3, Research Materials, in Box 28, folder 1.

Note: in the case of multiple copies, "copy 2" generally indicates not a literal duplicate, but a re-release with some minor alterations to the cover or label; notes by Rickson inserted in the outer sleeve detail differences.

sub-series A: LP Records

Special note for the LP sub-series: several recordings lack Rickson's alphanumerical designations and appear to have been unaccounted for in his personal inventory. These items, some of which are discussed in Ffortissimo and others not, are housed at the end of the sub-series in Boxes 10, 11, and 12.

sub-series B: Reel-to-Reel Tapes

sub-series C: Cassettes

sub-series D: Compact Discs

Note: CDs include an extensive collection of “Fennell Editions” lecture series recordings, as well as Mercury re-releases of original LP recordings. The lectures that comprise the “Fennell Editions” series were recorded with Maestro Fennell’s permission by Dr. Jennifer Martin, an acquaintance of both Fennell and Rickson, using a Sony TC-D5 Pro cassette recorder and a Shure SM57 microphone.

sub-series E: Sound Recordings in Other Formats

The items in this sub-series include 45 RPM records, 7” records, and promotional “sound sheets.”

sub-series F: Videocassettes

Series 2: Fennell Publications

sub-series A: Music

Approximately three dozen wind ensemble compositions written, arranged, or edited by Frederick Fennell are contained in this sub-series. The publishers most prominently represented include Carl Fischer, Ludwig, and Sam Fox.

sub-series B: Writings

This sub-series includes monographs and articles by Fennell, ranging from major works (Time and the Winds, represented here in several editions) to shorter pieces such as the preface to Cymbals: A Crash Course.

Series 3: Research Materials

This series preserves Rickson’s research notes and source materials for the Ffortissimo bio-discography. Rickson’s original collation of the materials into three-ring binders has been preserved to the greatest possible extent; however, a number of loose or otherwise disbound materials have been housed separately. Both sub-series contain similar items: correspondence, repertory lists, drafts, photographs, publicity materials documenting Fennell’s career, etc.; thus, to locate all the correspondence between Rickson and Fennell, for example, it will be necessary to search the loose as well as the bound items. Finally, a third sub-series preserves several computer diskettes that arrived with the Rickson Collection; these likely contain electronic duplicates of items preserved in hard copy elsewhere in the collection.

sub-series A: Loose Materials

sub-series B: Bound Materials

These materials are shelved at M3B 8, 5-6. As there are no box numbers for this sub-series, simply use the document/notebook title to request access to an individual item.

sub-series C: Computer Diskettes

Series 4: Oversized items

Not a formal series, but created for filing convenience. Contains five oversized photographic items that are framed and have been shelved apart from the collection proper, at vertical storage C10 in the library's vault.
