Biographical Sketch

Abram Loft (b. January 7, 1922; d. February 1, 2019) was a distinguished American violinist and pedagogue. His parents, Leon and Dora (Jasnowsky) Loft, were Russian émigrés, who met and married in New York. His mother insisted that Abram, along with his two brothers, receive musical instruction at an early age. Thus, Abram began studying the violin at the age of 5, and, throughout his youth, he attended various music schools in the City.

After graduating from Townsend Harris High School, a preparatory school of the City College of New York, Loft entered Columbia University, earning an undergraduate degree in music (BA, 1942) while studying violin with Herbert Dittler. He went on to earn graduate degrees in musicology, also at Columbia (MA, 1944; PhD, 1950); his dissertation presented a history of musicians’ guilds and unions. In 1942, coinciding with the start of his graduate studies, he began a 10-year period of activity as a violist: he worked as a freelance violist in broadcast and recording orchestras, performing in such programs as “Invitation to Music” as well as with the CBS Symphony. In 1946, he was appointed to the faculty at Columbia, where he taught undergraduate courses in music history. He also lectured at the Manhattan School of Music (1951-1954). Throughout this period, he continued to perform in sonata recitals on both viola and violin.

He returned to the violin in 1952, marking the occasion with a recital at Town Hall in New York. Two years later, in 1954, he left Columbia and New York to join the Chicago-based Fine Arts Quartet as second violinist. This marked the beginning of what would become a prestigious 25-year performing career with the ensemble. With the quartet, Loft toured throughout America, Canada, Europe, Australia, New Zealand, and the Far East; made more than 50 recordings; and appeared frequently on television and radio programs, including appearances on the Today Show, the Ed Sullivan Show, and numerous radio series. In the late 1950s and early 1960s, the quartet also appeared in 20 hour-length programs for National Educational Television, for which Loft produced the scripts. In addition, the quartet collaborated with Encyclopedia Britannica Films to produce two short films on quartet playing. When Loft joined the quartet in 1954, they were completing a teaching residency at Northwestern University (1952-1955). In 1963, the ensemble joined the faculty of the University of Wisconsin–Milwaukee as Quartet-in-Residence.

In 1979, Loft retired from the Fine Arts Quartet and left the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee (as distinguished professor emeritus) to join the Eastman School of Music. At Eastman, he served as chair of the string department and professor of chamber music until his retirement in 1986. Additionally, from 1980-1985, he co-directed and performed with the Eastman Chamber Players. Throughout his teaching career, Loft presented lectures and workshops at a variety of universities and festivals, including Northwestern University, the Aspen Music Festival, the Cleveland Institute of Music, the International String Workshop, the Southeastern Music Center (1983-1985), and the Heidelberg Castle Festival (1983-1992). He also was a long-time summer faculty member at the Kneisel Hall School of Chamber Music in Blue Hill, Maine.

As part of the Fine Arts Quartet, Loft received Roosevelt University’s Performing Artist of Chicago Award (1967), an appointment as Laureate and Member of the Lincoln Academy of Illinois (1967), the Wisconsin Arts Council Award (1968), and the American String Teachers Association’s Distinguished Service Award (1971). He received an honorary doctorate in music from Northland College (Ashland, WI) in 1977, and, in 1984, he was awarded the University of Rochester’s Edward P. Curtis Award for undergraduate teaching. He received a second, individual ASTA Distinguished Service Award in 1993.

Loft died peacefully in his home on February 1, 2019, at age 97.

Provenance

The collection was the gift of Dr. Loft’s three children, David Loft, Peter Loft, and Marah Loft, through the agency of Marah Loft. It was received by the Sibley Music Library in May 2019.

Scope and content note

The collection is comprised of Dr. Loft’s professional papers, including correspondence, lecture materials and writings, photographs, concert programs, press clippings, publicity materials, study scores, and recordings. A significant portion of the collection relates to his performing career with the Fine Arts Quartet.

Restrictions on use

There is no restriction on research access for study; however, the provisions of the U.S. Copyright Law and its revisions do attend use of the collection. The written consent of all copyright owners will be required in the event of any reproduction requests.
Associations

The Abram Loft Collection is one of several collections documenting the professional activities and careers of Eastman School of Music performance faculty. Others among this number include the Francis Tursi Papers, the Zvi Zeitlin Collection, and the Eileen Malone Collection.
DESCRIPTION OF SERIES

The collection has been arranged into three main sub-groups according to material type, namely papers, printed music, and audio-visual materials; a fourth sub-group has been designated to accommodate oversized materials. Each sub-group has been further divided into the series (and sub-series) outlined below:

SUB-GROUP I: PAPERS

This sub-group contains various documents generated and collected by Dr. Loft over the course of his professional career.

Several of these documents were received in series of file folders organized under Dr. Loft’s own headings. When present, these headings have been preserved in the folder titles; in such cases, the wording from the original folders or labels is indicated by the use of quotation marks (e.g., “Canadian Composers”). Folder names enclosed in bracket indicate that the wording has been created or added for ease of filing.

Series 1: Publicity and press materials

Dr. Loft maintained collections of concert programs and press clippings documenting his performance activities. A substantial portion of these collections was devoted to his career with the Fine Arts Quartet. Two primary categories of materials are represented in this series:

Sub-series A: Concert programs

This sub-series contains concert programs, festival programs, and various publicity flyers and circulars pertaining to performances by the Fine Arts Quartet as well as solo and ensemble performances by Abram Loft. The first half of this sub-series consists of programs from concerts of the Fine Arts Quartet, and programs featuring Abram Loft separately follow in sequence. The programs are arranged chronologically within each grouping. The final folder in this sub-series contains a small number of programs from concerts by other musicians, including some of Dr. Loft’s students.

Oversized concert posters and other publicity items have been separated into a discrete series in Sub-group IV (Oversized Materials).

Sub-series B: Press clippings

This sub-series is comprised of loose press clippings and facsimiles that document Dr. Loft’s performing and professional career. As with the sub-series of concert programs, press clippings pertaining to the activities of the Fine Arts Quartet appear first in the sub-series (arranged chronologically); press clippings relating to Dr. Loft’s individual activities as a performer, teacher, and writer, such as concert reviews and book reviews, follow. To preserve Dr. Loft’s original organization of these materials, some folders contain mixed materials, such as correspondence, in addition to press clippings.

Series 2: Fine Arts Quartet papers

This series consists of various documents related to the professional activities of the Fine Arts Quartet. Among these papers are various administrative documents, such as financial records and itineraries. The documents in this series fall broadly into the following five categories or sub-series:

Sub-series A: Papers

Sub-series B: Itineraries, calendars, contracts, and programs

Sub-series C: Financial records

Sub-series D: Program notes

Abram Loft wrote many of the program notes for the quartet’s performances, and he maintained working files containing drafts of program notes and various source materials. Those items have been preserved in this sub-series, and the files are organized alphabetically by surname of the composers and performers represented.

Sub-series E: Proposals, projects, and scripts

This series contains documents related to various proposals and projects developed by the Fine Arts Quartet, such as proposals for workshops, textbooks, and radio or television series about music and/or the string quartet as well as correspondence related to these proposals. Also represented in this sub-series are drafts of television scripts for programs produced in collaboration with WTTW Chicago, National Educational Television, and Encyclopedia Britannica Films.

Series 3: Eastman School of Music papers

This series contains documents related to Dr. Loft’s career at the Eastman School of Music, including various administrative documents and reports as well as proposals for innovations to the string and chamber music curricula.

Series 4: Professional papers

This series contains other documents related to Dr. Loft’s other professional activities, such as documents from his career at Columbia University, additional lecture or coaching engagements, and other proposals. Dr. Loft’s original organization has been preserved as much as possible. Where collections of documents were organized under Dr. Loft’s own headings, the headings have been preserved in the folder titles. Elsewhere, the documents have been organized by subject and/or document title.

Series 5: Personal papers

Among Dr. Loft’s papers was a finite collection of documents of a more personal nature, such as personal travel itineraries and files related to Dr. Loft’s engagement with the Rochester Woodworkers Society. Those items have been preserved in this series.

Series 6: Lecture and pedagogical materials

This series consists of materials pertaining to lectures given by Dr. Loft as well as documents from courses he taught at Columbia University and the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. Principal among these materials are lecture outlines, scripts, transparencies, and handouts; other documents include associated correspondence, publicity materials, and research notes and materials.

Series 7: Writing and research

Dr. Loft remained a prolific writer and scholar throughout his performing career. In addition to writing program notes for the Fine Arts Quartet, he wrote several articles, reviews, translations, and books related to chamber music performance, the string repertoire, and higher education. He also began work on an intended textbook on the “History of Chamber Music,” which was to be published by Macmillan, but evidence suggests the volume was not completed due to the demands of his other professional and performance obligations. At the time of his death, Dr. Loft was working on a projected book project tentatively titled “History of the Professional String Quartet.”

For his various research projects, Dr. Loft maintained extensive files consisting of source material, research notes, working lists of bibliographical information, card files, and reference materials. For example, he saved reproductions of scores, articles, book chapters, and other secondary sources, which he organized meticulously in precisely labeled file folders. He also created detailed research notes containing transcriptions of direct quotes as well as summaries of the secondary sources he consulted in his research.

To document Dr. Loft’s research method, his working research notes and files for two unfinished book projects (i.e., “History of Chamber Music” and “The History of the Professional String Quartet”), including outlines, drafts, and working bibliographies have been preserved; secondary source materials, such as photocopies of book chapters or articles and printouts of reference material from online sources, have been removed from the collection, as have his corresponding research notes. Similarly, secondary source materials and research notes for Dr. Loft’s published writings have also been removed from the collection. However, his working bibliographies and card files have been preserved, as have any extant drafts and outlines. Moreover, this series contains drafts of several shorter essays and articles on various musical and non-musical subjects.
Sub-series A: Writing (music)

This sub-series contains drafts, outlines, research notes, and working bibliographies associated with Dr. Loft’s numerous books, articles, and other writing on musical subjects. The original folder names from Dr. Loft’s filing system have been preserved; where this is the case, the wording from the original folders or labels is indicated by the use of quotation marks.

Sub-series B: Card files

Among his papers, Dr. Loft preserved several index card files containing bibliographic information and research notes, which he compiled as part of his research process. Inasmuch as possible, the card files have been labeled with the corresponding research project (e.g., Dr. Loft’s dissertation on musician’s unions or chamber music research).

Sub-series C: Writing (other interests)

Dr. Loft held a variety of non-musical interests, most prominently woodworking, photography, and travel. Dr. Loft wrote and published several articles for woodworking magazines and newsletters (e.g., Woodwork and Fine Woodworking), including many that he co-authored with his son David. In addition, Dr. Loft wrote a variety of travel articles, some of which were published by various magazines and newspapers. He also embarked on at least two substantive translation projects, namely English translations of a French cooking manual and a manual on knife manufacturing.

Efforts have been made to represent Dr. Loft’s diverse interests within this collection. In particular, unpublished drafts of articles on non-musical topics have been preserved in this series, as have the drafts of his translation projects. Published articles are represented in the collection through publishing agreements and contracts and, when available, a final draft or publisher’s proof of the article. Working drafts of articles that were published as well as research notes, correspondence relating to article content and publication, and visual material (i.e., photographs, negatives, slides, and manuscript diagrams) have been removed from the collection. The materials preserved in this sub-series do not appear to represent a comprehensive archive of Dr. Loft’s non-musical publications and writing; thus, researchers desiring more information about Dr. Loft’s non-musical publications are advised to consult his published articles in magazines such as Woodwork magazine, Fine Woodworking, and France Today.

Series 8: Correspondence

This series of correspondence has been divided into three sub-series according to the nature of the materials (see below). The bulk of this correspondence was organized according to Dr. Loft’s original headings, which have been preserved in the folder titles. Within each folder, the correspondence is arranged chronologically. Where multiple correspondents are represented in a single folder, the materials are organized alphabetically by correspondent’s surname.

Sub-series A: Correspondence pertaining to the Fine Arts Quartet

Sub-series B: Professional correspondence

Sub-series C: Personal correspondence

Series 9: Iconography

The bulk of materials in this sub-series are photographs, including headshots and various publicity photographs from performances by the Fine Arts Quartet. Other items include various personal photographs and artwork (e.g., hand drawn portraits of Abram Loft). See also Sub-group IV (Oversized materials) for additional iconography.

SUB-GROUP II: PRINTED MUSIC

This sub-group contains a portion of Dr. Loft’s collection of literature and scores, including performance scores and parts as well as materials Dr. Loft used in his research. The music has been divided into four distinct series as follows:

Series 1: Chamber music

This series is comprised of full scores and, occasionally, parts to published chamber music, the bulk of which are string quartets.

Series 2: Performance parts

This series consists of individual instrumental parts to chamber works, predominately to string quartets. Most of the music in this series is represented by facsimiles of performance parts used by Abram Loft.

Series 3: Solo music

This series contains music for solo instrument (e.g., solo violin or viola) with or without accompaniment. A few scores for solo keyboard are also present in this series.

Series 4: Consort music

Included in this series are facsimiles of scores to music for string consort dating from the 15th through 18th centuries. This material was likely used by Dr. Loft for his historical research.
SUB-GROUP III: AUDIO-VISUAL MATERIALS

This sub-group contains a variety of sound recordings and audio-visual recordings. Dr. Loft is a performer on a majority of the recordings in this series, appearing either as a soloist or chamber musician. However, there are also several commercial and personal recordings of other musicians. Each format has been assigned to its own sub-series.

Within each sub-series, where applicable, the recordings are grouped by personnel (i.e., recordings of Dr. Loft or recordings of other musicians) and recording type (i.e., commercial recordings or non-commercial recordings).

Of particular note are the commercial recordings produced by the Concertapes/Concert-disc label. Concertapes, Inc., was founded by the Fine Arts Quartet in 1953. As one of the early pioneers of stereo tape, Concertapes produced a variety of high-quality concert recordings including several albums by the Fine Arts Quartet and the New York Woodwind Quintet. In 1958, Concertapes launched a corollary LP label, Concert Disc, and expanded the catalog substantially. Several Concertapes/Concert-Disc recordings are represented in this series.

Series 1: 5” and 7” audio reels

The first half of this sub-series contains recordings wherein Dr. Loft is a performer. Commercial recordings (consisting of Concertapes releases) appear first in the sub-series; these recordings are organized by catalog number. Non-commercial recordings are organized chronologically.

The recordings of other musicians (i.e., recordings wherein Abram Loft does not appear as a performer) are arranged in a similar fashion: commercial recordings (primarily Concertapes releases) appear first in the sequence and are arranged by catalog number; those are followed by non-commercial recordings, which are organized alphabetically by performer or, when no performer is listed, alphabetically by title.

Series 2: 10” audio reels

This series contains a finite number of 10” audio reels (2 in total). These items are non-commercial recordings of Abram Loft.

Series 3: 10” phonograph discs

The collection includes a limited number of 10” phonograph discs (2 in total). Both discs are non-commercial recordings.

Series 4: 12” phonograph discs (LPs)
The majority of materials in this sub-series are commercial recordings of the Fine Arts Quartet, including a substantial number of releases by the Concert-Disc label. The recordings are arranged alphabetically by label, and within each sequence, individual LPs are organized by catalog number. This sequence of commercial recordings is followed by a small number of non-commercial recordings wherein Dr. Loft is listed as a performer; these discs are organized chronologically.

At the end of this sub-series, there are a finite number of commercial and non-commercial recordings in which Abram Loft does not appear to have been a performer. These recordings are arranged alphabetically by label. Non-commercial recordings are organized chronologically; recordings with no date listed appear at the end of the sequence.

Series 5: Cassette tapes

This sub-series consists of a series of non-commercial recordings, likely produced by Dr. Loft for his own purposes (e.g., one cassette tape is labeled “Practice”). The items in this sub-series have been arranged alphabetically by title or marking on the cassette tapes.

Series 6: 7” film reels

Included among the other AV material in Dr. Loft’s papers were several film reels. These appear to be personal or family movies documenting various travels; the reels are labeled with concise headings such as “Home” and “Hawaii, Australia.” The film reels have been arranged alphabetically by heading.

SUB-GROUP IV: OVERSIZED MATERIALS

This sub-group has been created for the ease of filing and is comprised of documents that require special housing consideration on grounds of their oversized dimensions. The individual items and folder entries are annotated with respect to the series and sub-series designations from which the given documents were separated. The oversized materials have been divided into five series according to material type:

Series 1: Ephemera

This series contains various oversized items, including scrapbooks, awards, diplomas, and certificates. Among the ephemera are a few items associated with Dr. Loft’s wife, Mildred (“Jill”) Loft (nee Sternberg).

Series 2: Oversized papers

Series 3: Oversized iconography

Series 4: Oversized press clippings
Series 5: Oversized publicity materials

This series primarily consists of large concert and recital posters documenting performances by the Fine Arts Quartet as well as solo recitals by Abram Loft. Additional oversized publicity materials (such as brochures and collages of press clippings) are also included in this series.
