Biographical Sketch

Born in Scranton, Pennsylvania, Hal Schuler graduated from Scranton Central High School and went on to higher education at the University of Scranton and at West Virginia University. Eventually relocating to Rochester, New York, he was employed for thirty years as an analytical chemist with the Eastman Kodak Company.

Mr. Schuler's interest in jazz dates back to his high school years, when he played string bass in a school ensemble. Later, a jazz vespers service at a Lutheran church in Syracuse, New York, conducted by the Reverend John Gensel with the Randy Weston Trio, was his first experience with live jazz. While in the employ of Eastman Kodak, Mr. Schuler was active in the company's Camera Club, during which time he began to photograph jazz musicians who were appearing in numerous different venues across Western New York State. In Mr. Schuler's telling, that activity soon became "a bit of an obsession," particularly for a fifteen-year period after he attended the 10th Bern Jazz Festival (Bern, Switzerland) in 1985.

Provenance

The collection was a gift from Mr. Schuler to the Sibley Music Library, received by the Library over a period of several months in 2005.

Scope and Content

The Hal Schuler Collection is comprised of more than 300 photographs (most in black and white) of solo jazz performers and/or ensembles. Most of the photographs were taken at performances at jazz festivals in Rochester and elsewhere in New York State; others were taken at jazz festivals in Europe. While the collection holdings range in chronology from 1976 to 2003, the bulk of the prints were taken between 1982 and 2003. The musicians represented range from established, internationally recognized musicians such as Miles Davis, Joe Henderson, Dizzy Gillespie, and Horace Silver, to more locally known talent. Numerous photographs were autographed by the artists.

Restrictions and Use

No restrictions have been placed on access to the materials in this collection, except for those imposed by the provisions of the U.S. Copyright Law (1976) and its revisions. The written consent of Mr. Schuler must be obtained before any reproductions of any prints will be granted.

Associations

The Hal Schuler Collection is one of a growing number of jazz-related collections in the Ruth T. Watanabe Special Collections. Those collections include the Rayburn Wright Collection, the Mike Arena Collection, and the Bob Brookmeyer Collection. As a collection of specifically jazz-themed photographs, the Hal Schuler Collection is the first of its kind within the Sibley Music Library. Other prominent photographic collections in the SML include the Alexander Leventon Collection, the David James Collection, and the Louis Ouzer Archive.

DESCRIPTION OF SERIES

Series 1: 11 x 14" Prints

This series is comprised entirely of photographs at 11 x 14" in dimension. Each print was mounted in matting, and most of the prints were autographed by their subjects. The prints are arranged alphabetically by the last names of their subjects.

Series 2: 8 x 10" Prints

This series is comprised entirely of prints at 8 x 10" in dimension. A few were mounted in matting; many were autographed by their subjects. Photographs of ensembles are alphabetized under the leader's last name (e.g., "Art Blakey's Jazz Messengers" is under "Blakey") or under the group name (e.g., "Pachora"). Photographs of ensembles deemed to be unofficial collectives, or photographs in which the group leader is not pictured, are alphabetized by the last name of the most prominently pictured artist. If no artist is obviously prominent, the photograph is alphabetized under the last name of the pictured artist predicted to be most searched for. Photographs of single musicians are under the artist's last name, regardless of ensemble. All photographs of musicians appearing as guests with Eastman School of Music student and faculty ensembles have been filed under "Eastman" so as to facilitate research specifically related to the school.

Note on the item descriptions:

All photo descriptions in this finding aid are based on penciled captions that were graciously provided by Mr. Schuler, appearing either on the photo sleeves or on the photo matting. For convenience, the following abbreviations have been used throughout:

(p) — piano	(b) — bass
(d) — drums	(ss) — soprano saxophone
