DESCRIPTION OF COLLECTION

Shelf location: C3B 5.6 — 6.5

Extent: 20 linear feet

Biographical Sketch

Mr. Bergsma’s life and career have been amply described elsewhere. This brief sketch is provided to serve as the most ready detail in accompaniment to his manuscripts.

Composer and academic William Lawrence Bergsma was born in Oakland, California, on April 1, 1921. After attending Stanford University for two years (1938-40), he enrolled at the Eastman School of Music, where he earned the BA (1942) and MM (1943) degrees in composition. His primary teachers at Eastman were Howard Hanson and Bernard Rogers. At the Eastman School, Mr. Bergsma’s work was recognized not only at the academic level but also at the professional level. In the first instance, several of his works were performed in the [twice-yearly] Symposia of Student Works for Orchestra, but in the second instance, his compositions were programmed for performance at the Eastman School’s annual Festivals of American Music. These included his opera Aucassin and Nicolette, his ballet suite Paul Bunyan, his ballet Gold and the Señor Commandante, and his Symphony for Chamber Orchestra, in the latter of which he was invited to take the podium in a concert of the Eastman School Little Symphony of Phi Mu Alpha. He dedicated his solo piano composition Three Fantasies (1943) to ESM professor of piano Cécile Staub Genthart.

In 1946, Mr. Bergsma was appointed to the composition faculty of the Juilliard School of Music. In 1960, he was appointed chairman of both the Department of Composition and the Department of Literature and Materials of Music; in 1961, he assumed the position of Associate Dean. In 1963, Mr. Bergsma was appointed Director of the School of Music of the University of Washington (Seattle), serving in that capacity until his resignation as Director in 1971. He remained on the School of Music faculty as a member of the composition and theory faculty until his retirement in 1985, whereupon emeritus status was conferred on him.

Mr. Bergsma was a prolific composer who worked in a variety of genres: orchestral, chamber, choral and vocal, solo instrumental, operatic, and ballet. His works were recorded for commercial release on the Mercury, Decca, and Columbia labels. In addition, he was recognized with fellowships and grants from the NEA, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation.

Mr. Bergsma died of a heart attack on March 18, 1994, while hospitalized in Seattle. The University of Washington School of Music organized a memorial concert in his honor, a recording of which resides in the given collection.

Provenance

The collection was the gift of Mr. Bergsma’s daughter, Anne Bergsma (Seattle, Washington), given in several installments in the years 2009-2012.

Scope and Content

The collection is comprised of three areas of material: original compositions, consisting of manuscript facsimiles and published copies; a variety of personal and professional papers chronicling Mr. Bergsma’s activities; and a collection of sound recordings, the bulk privately made and a smaller number commercially released. Mr. Bergsma’s prominence as a musical academic and as a composer of the second half of the 20th century render this collection an essential resource.

In addition, other institutions hold material relevant to Mr. Bergsma’s life and work. The Library of Congress is the primary repository of his music manuscripts. (Box 14 of the given collection holds relevant correspondence regarding Mr. Bergsma’s deposit of manuscripts with LC.) In addition, the Juilliard School of the Music and the University of Washington (Seattle) hold material relevant to Mr. Bergsma’s faculty service at each.
Restrictions on use

There are no restrictions on access. However, copyright restrictions do attend Mr. Bergsma’s original compositions and also the sound recordings thereof. The written consent of all copyright owners will be required in the event of any reproduction requests.

Associations

The William Bergsma Collection is one in a significant number of collections of professional and personal papers of American composers and Eastman School graduates that have been received by the Sibley Music Library. In that number are the collections of Mr. Bergsma’s mentors Howard Hanson and Bernard Rogers, and also those of his peer composers, including Wayne Barlow ('30, '34, '37) and Alexander Courage ('41).
DESCRIPTION OF SERIES

Sub-group I: ORIGINAL COMPOSITIONS

This sub-group is comprised of manuscript facsimiles and also published copies of many of Mr. Bergsma’s compositions. The holdings are organized around four distinct series based on performing forces, such as are delineated below, with a fifth series comprised of oversized scores.

Series 1: Orchestral
Series 2: Operatic
Series 3: Vocal
Series 4: Chamber and Solo Instrumental
Series 5: Oversized Scores

Sub-group B: PERSONAL PAPERS

This sub-group is comprised of a variety of documents that chronicle Mr. Bergsma’s professional and personal activities. Prominent among them are publicity items (including press clippings), concert and recital programs, and professional correspondence. In addition, a small number of photographs are present, including several professional portraits taken at various representative points in Mr. Bergsma’s career. Finally, a special series is devoted to the memorial concert that the University of Washington School of Music mounted in Mr. Bergsma’s honor after his death.

The documents are sub-divided as indicated below.

Series 6: Publicity

Sub-series A: Biographical data

Sub-series B: Articles and other writings

Sub-series C: Press items

Series 7: Programs

Series 8: Correspondence

Series 9: William Bergsma Memorial Concert
Sub-group C: SOUND RECORDINGS AND OTHER MEDIA

This sub-group is comprised of sound recordings, the greater number of which are of private issue—that is, privately captured in performance or in rehearsal, rather than having been commercially released. A few items have been officially produced by various agencies; the provenance of such items are cited within their respective entries.

For the many recordings that were privately made, researchers are advised that citations incorporate the full extent of information that accompanied the original formats represented in the collection. The accompanying information varies widely in extent, from minimal to detailed, and also in legibility, and the repository has refrained from over-interpreting in those instances when dates, performers’ names, and recording agency could be determined with certainty. In some instances, research in a variety of sources—historical, bibliographic, and/or discographic—has enabled the verification of, as well as the elaboration upon, any particularly nebulous citations that happened to accompany any given recordings.

The holdings are sub-divided by format, as spelled out below.

Series 1: Instantaneous discs

Series 2: Analog tape formats

Sub-series A: 7” reels

Sub-sub-series i: Reels containing a single work

Sub-sub-series ii: Reels containing more than one work

Sub-series B: 5” reels

Sub-series C: Audio-cassette tapes

Series 3: Other media

Sub-series A: LP records (33 1/3 rpm)

Sub-series B: VHS

Sub-series C: CD
