The Eastman Student Support Team consists of the following administrators:

- Senior Associate Dean of Academic and Student Affairs
- Associate Dean of Academic and International Affairs
- Assistant Dean of Student Affairs
- Assistant Director for Residential Life
- Assistant Director for Student Activities and Engagement
- Director of Graduate Services and Advising
- Academic Counselor and Disability Access Coordinator

In addition, these administrators connect with a comprehensive array of offices and departments across campus. The purpose of the Eastman Student Support Team is to identify students and issues that may need attention, support, or other intervention. The Eastman Student Support Team meets formally on a regular basis. Its members hold themselves to the very highest ethical standards, sharing information confidentially among Eastman staff and faculty on a “need-to-know” basis only.

A variety of intervention strategies and mechanisms are available including case conferences, mandated assessments, supportive planning agreements, various leave of absence options, and disciplinary action. Faculty, staff, and parents can share information with any member of the Eastman Student Support Team, and that member will bring the information to the group for discussion and possible intervention.

Our ability to share information is often limited by law and/or policy. We are, however, always willing and able to receive information from faculty, staff, and parents whenever they feel it may be of some importance, so please feel free to call our offices.

Updated August 2016
The Office of Student Activities is responsible for on and off campus student activities and programs that address students' social, cultural, and developmental needs. All student organizations, the Students' Association, and Graduate Students' Association are advised by the Office of Student Activities.

The Office of Student Activities oversees New Student Orientation, Students' Association, Graduate Students' Association, Eastman Welcome Weekend, Family Weekend, Spring Fling, Senior Week, Wellness Initiative for Students at Eastman (WISE), and a variety of programs and events.

Examples of when faculty and/or students should contact Student Activities:
- If you have questions about Orientation
- If you have questions about undergraduate organizations, programs, or events
- If you have questions about graduate organizations, programs, or events
- If you have questions about wellness-related program
- If you have questions or ideas about a student or office sponsored program or event

Examples of when faculty and/or students should contact Academic Affairs:
- If you have questions about Orientation
- If you have questions about undergraduate organizations, programs, or events
- If you need intervention for a student with a mental or physical health crisis
- If you have questions or ideas about a student or office sponsored program or event

Examples of when faculty should contact Academic Affairs:
- If you have questions about a student's academic progress in a degree program
- If you have questions about a student's achievement or contributions in class or lessons
- If you need intervention for a student with a mental or physical health crisis

Examples of when students should contact Academic Affairs:
- If you need intervention for a student with a mental or physical health crisis
- If you have a conflict with or concern for your roommate
- If you are in need of an accommodation related to housing
- If you have questions about the University's Standards of Student Conduct

Examples of when faculty should contact Residential Life:
- If you need intervention for a student with a mental or physical health crisis
- If you need your ID encoded for entry to the SLC
- If you have a conflict with or concern for your roommate
- If you are in need of an accommodation related to housing

Examples of when students should contact Residential Life:
- If you have questions about living in the SLC
- If you have questions about events such as Housing Lottery or RA Selection
- If you have lost your ID or keys to your room
- If you need your ID encoded for spaces in the SLC
- If you have a conflict with or concern for your roommate
- If you need your ID encoded for entry to the SLC
- If you have questions about the University's Standards of Student Conduct

Examples of when students should contact Residential Life:
- If you need intervention for a student with a mental or physical health crisis
- If you need your ID encoded for entry to the SLC
- If you have a conflict with or concern for your roommate
- If you are in need of an accommodation related to housing
- If you have questions about the University's Standards of Student Conduct