Office of Disability Resources – Workshop

Title: “Supporting Student Access: Disability Accommodations and Inclusive Teaching at Eastman”

Description:

This interactive workshop builds upon the fundamentals of disability accommodations to explore the practical and pedagogical questions faculty encounter in the classroom, studio, and performance environment. Topics include designing courses with accessibility in mind, creating accessible instructional materials, planning for accommodated examinations, implementing Course Policy Adjustments (CPAs) for reasonable flexibility, and distinguishing reasonable accommodations from fundamental alterations. Participants will leave with practical strategies for supporting students with disabilities while preserving the essential academic and artistic standards of their courses.
